With a commendable 19-year tenure in policing, Vicky decided to pivot her path, embracing the call of Australia's vast landscapes and serene beaches. Her venture into van life was more than a mere exploration; it became the birthplace of a revolutionary idea. Discovering a Gap, Creating a Solution While reveling in the freedom of the open road, Vicky identified a glaring gap in the caravan market. The process of buying a caravan was fraught with challenges: time-consuming showroom visits, endless rounds of saleyards, and often fruitless negotiations with salespeople. It wasn't just about finding a caravan; it was about finding joy in the journey. This realisation sparked the inception of Find My Van – a service dedicated to adding fun and ease to the caravan buying and selling experience.

Client-Centric Approach: The Core of Success

Vicky's approach is deeply rooted in a client-first philosophy. Her commitment to putting clients' needs at the forefront has been the driving force behind Find My Van's exponential growth. Recognising that every client has a unique story and set of requirements, Vicky and her team dedicate themselves to personalized service.

Making Dreams Come True, One Van at a Time

Find My Van is more than just a brokerage; it's a dream facilitator. Whether you're buying or selling, Vicky's mission is to ensure that every interaction leaves clients closer to their caravan dreams.

The company stands as a testament to her vision: To streamline the caravan trading process, making it a delightful, stress-free experience for all.

Embark on Your Adventure with Confidence

With Vicky at the helm, Find My Van is not just offering a service; it's offering an experience tailored to the joy and excitement of caravan life. She invites you to step into this journey of discovery and freedom, promising that with Find My Van, your caravan adventure starts on the right note.
